PARIS - Franco-American musical theatre company AMT Live continues Paris' longest running musical theatre open mic soirée next month with a special tribute to the composers who garnered the prestigious ASCAP Richard Rodgers New Horizons Award. Soirée hosts and members of AMT Live, will present songs by John Bucchino, Peter Mills, and Benj Pasek & Justin Paul, the dynamic young Tony-nominated duo whose French premiere (Edges) was produced by the organization in 2013.

As always, the stage will be opened up to local talents who have prepared pieces by any of the award winners of this annual prize, which honors promising musical theatre composers. The exclusive short list of awardees includes renowned composers Lin-Manuel Miranda (Hamilton, In The Heights), Adam Guettel (Light in the Piazza, Floyd Collins), and Jeanine Tesori (Shrek, Violet, Fun Home)

Special guests for this soirée will include the French casts of Next Thing You Know (Lauren Berkman, Quentin Bruno, Miranda Crispin, and Vinicious Timmerman,) and Gutenberg le Musical (Philippe d'Avilla, Sébastien Valter, and Sebastien Menard), and NYC-based guest composer/lyricist duo TIm Rosser and Charlie Sohne.

Musical theatre lovers are invited to this quintessentially Parisian experience which combines exclusivity of a riverboat along the Seine with the welcoming atmosphere of your local neighborhood pub. You'll be treated to a mix of the finest talent in town, courageous first-timers, and everything in between, all in a fun-loving atmosphere.

Le Marcounet is a full-service bar and serves fromage and charcuterie to tide you over while you enjoy the evening.
